Probably would have recovered 10 times that had they continued pressure cycling.... Its pretty clear they were not done with SEE.

During the week July 8-15, an additional 213 gallons of LNAPL have been recovered from the site from 7 different wells, and there were 6 wells that contained significant LNAPL that was not recovered. Total recovered thus far is ~1,010 gallons since SEE terminated. Comes from all around the wellfield -
